KENTUCKY ECLECTIC INSTITUTE.

W. E. PLUMLEY, A. M., Principal.
(Successor to Dr. J. W. DODD.)

A THOROUGH SCHOOL

FOR CHILDREN & YOUNG PEOPLE OF BOTH SEXES.

Nineteenth Semi-Annual Session Begins
September 6th, 1880.

N. B.—It is the aim of this school to provide the means for a Classical and Higher English Training, covering a series of years, and with this object, the school will be re-classified at the beginning of the next session, and each pupil will be assigned to a place in the course.

A course of study will be planned for graduates of the City School. This course will require three years, and its completion will entitle the student to a diploma. A class in will be organized and taught by an experienced teacher. This class will be open to those who are not members of the school. Apparatus for teaching Astronomy and Physics, and a reference library will be provided.

Chemistry with Laboratory Practice

VOCAL MUSIC AND PAINTING.

Classes in Vocal Music, Painting, and Drawing will be organized during the month of September by Mrs. Plumley. A class in China Painting will also be formed.

The above school will change its location to the JEWETT PROPERTY, opposite the City School.

A Few Boarding Pupils will be received into the Principal's family. For terms and particulars, apply to

Office and Saw-Mills near Railroad Bridge,

FRANKFORT, KY.

Jan. 31-ly.

While a negro boy was unhitching the horse from Mr. Albert Jeffers' buggy, in front of Mr. John Noel's residence, on the Owen-ton 'pike Monday night, a reckless negro driver of a hack ran into the buggy, smashing one of the wheels and breaking the coupling-pole.

The L. C. & L. Railroad will run a special train between this city and Lexington during the fair, next week. Round trip tickets will be sold at reduced rates. Our citizens will have a chance to go to Lexington and visit the fair at about the expense as it has been heretofore to go out to our own fair.

Mr. W. T. Gaines has a very desirable farm, on Steele's Branch, in this county, which he wishes to sell or rent. Any information with regard to the farm can be had of Mr. Gaines, at his residence near the mouth of Cedar Cove, a mile and a half from this city. Read his advertisement in another column.

Mrs. Berry, the woman that created such a sensation in this city last week, left for Louisville Tuesday afternoon. She has instituted suit against Mr. Geo. Berry for a-sault, claiming $10,000 damages. Here the matter will rest until the circuit court meets in October, at which time the suit for divorce will also be tried, and the gossips can take a rest until then.

Our friends and neighbors that have been from home during the summer months are beginning to return, and we heartily welcome them back, for we have missed them in the churches, on the streets, and in their homes. Yes, we are glad to have them back again, feeling assured they have all been benefitted, for nothing rests the brain or muscle more than change.

The Gazette wants the dye-house taken down and the surroundings of the bridge made to harmonize. That's just the reason the old structure occupied by Mr. Perry should be left untouched, for it and the bridge always looked like twins. We don't think that because the bridge has been spattered over with a lot of whitewash that it should put on airs about it, and become ashamed of its old associate that has stood by it for half a century.

Mr. Henry Rosenfield, of Chicago, and Miss Rosa Jacoby, of this place, were married at the residence of the bride's mother, in this city, Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, by Rev. Dr. Wise, of Cincinnati. The rite was solemnized according to the rules of the Jewish Church, in the presence of the relatives and friends of the contracting parties, and after partaking of an elegant lunch, the happy pair left on the 5:40 train for their future home. The bridal presents were numerous and very handsome. So another beautiful woman has gone from this city to add to the beauty and grace with which Frankfort is already represented in Chicago.

Rev. Green Clay Smith will preach at the South Frankfort Baptist Church to-morrow morning and evening. All are invited to attend.

Hunt up your books and slates, boys and girls, and get ready for school. Start in like you were glad of the opportunity, as you should be, and will be, hereafter. Make the most of your school-days for they are the foundation stone of your whole after-life.

Mr. H. G. Mattern is fitting up the room over Crutcher & Stark's clothing house in handsome style, and expects to remove his photograph gallery into it next week. Mr. Mattern is a clever, reliable gentleman, and can come as near making a pretty picture of an ugly person as any man in his business in this country, and if you don't believe it just try him.

A Card.

Editor Roundabout:

Of late there has been a great deal of shooting from the Arsenal Hill down into the river, and rocks are frequently rolled down the face of the cliff. This makes it very dangerous for persons employed upon the banks of the river and in that vicinity, and I desire to call the attention of the police to the matter and ask that they look after the parties who make a practice of thus amusing themselves.
